

Reading Recovery®

Northern Vermont Reading Recovery Consortium

Intensive Small Group Intervention for Struggling Readers in Grades K-2 Instructor: Allyson Coburn, RR Teacher/Literacy Interventionist

Target Audience: Reading Recovery trained teachers, Title 1 Teachers, Special Educators, ELL teachers, Literacy coaches and Primary classroom teachers

(All teachers are required to teach a small intervention group of 3 students for at least ½ year.)

This course is designed to help teachers provide powerful, daily small-group instruction for struggling readers in schools that have implemented Reading Recovery. Combined with Reading Recovery, it provides a systematic approach for improving the reading and writing achievement of the lowest achieving children in the early grades. Students participate in daily 30 minute small group lessons that combine:

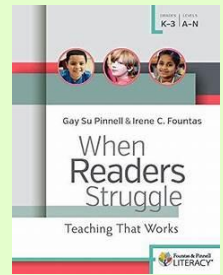

- Reading ,Writing, Phonics / word study
- A specially created and sequenced set of original children’s books
- Highly effective teacher lesson plans

Emphasis will be put on professional teacher development in deepening the understanding of many research-based techniques to help struggling readers make accelerated progress. The following materials and resources will be used:

- When Readers Struggle: Teaching That Works
- The Continuum of Literacy Learning
- The Fountas & Pinnell Prompting Guide 1: Teaching for Strategies in Reading and Writing
- The Leveled Literacy Intervention System*(Orange, Green or Blue depending on Grade level) Schools will need to purchase the System.
- See https://www.heinemann.com/collection/li?utm_source=fountasandpinnell for pricing and ordering
- The Benchmark Assessment System is also strongly recommended.
