Collaborative Professional Learning to Support Vermont Schools

Summer Google Workshops: Google Classroom

Facilitated by Lisa Barry & Joanne Finnegan

Target Audience: Teachers, Para-educators, Support Personnel

This hands-on day long workshop will focus on learning about the uses and advantages of Google Classroom. This tool is excellent for distributing work to students maximizing your teaching time. Google Classroom can improve your class organization, allowing you to create assignments quickly, provide feedback and communicate with parents and students easily. You will learn about the basic and advanced components of Google Classroom, how to share various forms of media and which websites integrate well with Google Classroom. Be prepared to start your school year off organized and ready.

Note: CVEDC has Chromebooks available for use that day, although you might prefer to bring your own device.
