Collaborative Professional Learning to Support Vermont Schools

Dr. Ross Greene: Advanced Training in Collaborative & Proactive Solutions: Understanding and Helping Behaviorally Challenging Students

Dr. Ross Greene's evidence-based, empirically-supported CPS model – as described in his books Lost at School and Lost & Found -- has a track record for dramatically reducing discipline referrals, detentions, and suspensions, improving student behavior, and improving relationships and communication. The model represents a shift away from modifying behaviors and toward solving the problems that are causing that behavior. And the problem solving is collaborative and proactive rather than unilateral and reactive. It's the future of school discipline...but it's happening already in countless schools across the world.

Participants in this workshop will leave with an understanding of the underpinnings of the model, along with practical assessment and intervention tools that can be brought back to their schools.

Day One:

- Key Themes
- The Assessment of Lagging Skills and Unsolved Problems (ALSUP)
- Practice and Feedback: Using the ALSUP
- Overview of The Three Plans

Day Two:

- Overview of Plan B
- Plan B Video, Practice, and Feedback
- Implementation in Schools and with Nonverbal Youth
- Conclusion

At the conclusion, participants will be able to identify and assess the various cognitive skills that are central to adaptively handling life's social, emotional, and behavioral challenges. They will identify & prioritize unsolved problems precipitating challenging behavior and be able to describe how to effectively implement Plan B to solve problems, teach, skills, and reduce the frequency and intensity of challenging behavior.
