CVEDC*Thought Partners Series 2020-21

Innovative Leadership

Lessons Learned from our Unplanned Remote Learning

Co-facilitated by Pam Moran, Senior Philosophy and Policy Advisor and Ira Socol, Senior Provocateur & Learning Environment Specialist

Target Audience: Leadership Teams focused on Equity & Innovation

Sessions 1 & 2 Observation and Design: Human-sensitive Learning (UX +UI) designing learning experiences with the empowerment grid (empowerment theme) –

- If you can't put the genie back in the bottle, what's your genie?
- What are the implications for professional learning based on your reflection and feedback?
- Where did 'equity' thrive or falter?

Session 3 Imagination and Innovation:

Powering up Learning – Development & use of strategies to create and sustain an engagement and equity mindset framework.

- How might a “blended-design” benefit students upon their return now and into the future?
- What opportunities do you see for critical variables in the change process?

Session 4 – one hour webinar to reconnect/Q & A

Session 5 Zero-based Thinking and Tactical Processes: How do we become hyper-learning organizations where we learn, unlearn and relearn at the speed of change?

- Incorporate observations and imagined design options from first two sessions
- Use research and development logic model that leads to the learner user experiences for all – equity theme
- Cross-pollinate and network with other teams to enhance and reflect
