Keeping Pace With AI Thinking Through Possibilities & Pitfalls Using Artificial Intelligence in Schools

Presenter: Scott McLeod, J.D., Ph.D.,
Professor of Educational Leadership at the University of Colorado, Denver

REQUIRED: Attendees should create a ChatGPT account before the workshop and bring their login information with them.

Audience: *Classroom Educators, Instructional Coaches, Educational Leaders, Librarians

The worlds of technology and artificial intelligence (AI) are changing fast!

Join us for a hands-on, active workshop designed to show you how you should be thinking about AI. The day will be filled with:

- A series of practice-based scenarios
- Exploration of day-to-day implementation considerations
- Finding ways we can make the lives of students and teachers a little easier and more productive
- ample opportunities to explore and share together throughout the day!

Let's roll up our sleeves and dive into both the possibilities and pitfalls of these powerful digital tools. Attendees will walk away with a several useful resources and ideas for sparking conversations in their local communities. Please bring a computer, your own examples of how you are using AI, and a willingness to be an engaged participant!

About our presenter:

A Professor of Educational Leadership at the University of Colorado Denver, Scott McLeod, J.D., Ph.D., is widely recognized as one of the nation's leading experts on P-12 school leadership, deeper learning, technology, and innovation. He is on a mission to make students' day-to-day learning less boring and more meaningful and relevant. Scott is the Founding Director of the UCEA Center for the Advanced Study of Technology Leadership in Education \(CASTLE\), the only university center in the U.S. dedicated to the technology needs of school administrators, and is the co-creator of both the wildly popular video series, Did You Know? \(Shift Happens\), and the 4 Shifts Protocol for lesson and unit redesign.
